Sustainability @ Baumer

Valuable Business Partners,

for decades, Baumer has been committed as a family-owned company to promote a gentle and sustainable use of resources. As early as 2008, a "Code of Conduct" was adopted, explicitly emphasizing environmental protection, efficient use of resources, the use of environmentally friendly technologies, and compliance with social minimum standards within the company and throughout the value chain.

In its comprehensive sustainability program, "Baumer Blue," Baumer addresses topics such as CO₂ emissions, reduction of critical resources, waste prevention, increased recycling rates, and human rights. Significant progress has already been made within this program, including the procurement of green energy and a reduction of electricity consumption at European sites by over 15% in 2022. This was achieved through automated consumption analysis, demand-based control of electrical consumers, and the widespread use of LED lighting systems.

Furthermore, numerous other initiatives are being implemented or planned, such as the partially self-sufficient energy supply of the new Innovation Center at the Frauenfeld site through photovoltaics, or the installation of photovoltaic systems on all production factory roofs.

Meeting requirements for pollutant-free products, socially responsible supply chains, and the reduction of critical materials or suppliers is an essential part of our company processes. We ensure this through comprehensive digital and automated analyses, demands for action from our suppliers, and, if necessary, through design changes or a change of suppliers to meet requirements with regards to REACH, RoHS, EMRT, TSCA, CMRT, etc.

To meet our high standards, we consistently implement the Supply Chain Due Diligence Act of the German Federal Ministry of Labor and Social Affairs. We regularly review the entire supply chain, implement measures, and monitor their effectiveness.

Sustainability is not just a buzzword for us but has been an integral part of our corporate philosophy for decades. We continuously question our measures and align them with current knowledge and legal requirements. This ensures sustainable business development for our customers, employees, and suppliers.
